MAYOR TELLS 'INSIDE STORY' OF LID ORDER

"Reform" Move to Indict
Him Unopposed by Wet Forces.

HINTS DENEEN RUSE.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Chicago, Wyo., Oct. 6.—(On board mayor's special train.)—The "inside
story" of Mayor Thompson's Sunday
closing order was revealed this evening, following the receipt of news of the big city throughout Chicago over the order and the publicity given to his presidential pledge.

In a remarkable interview Mr. Thompson charged his political opponents, especially the Deneen faction, with having attempted to bring about his indictment by the grand jury, aided by the "church people" and the "reformers." He implied that their object was not without hope of success because of the acquiescence of the liquor interests.

The mayor was asked whether the threatened "indictment" hastened his action.

"It was simply a proposition of law enforcement," he said. "Any public official who does not do that is open to impeachment."

Threat Proves One Factor.
The threatened indictment was a factor in the decision, "I heard a month ago they had begun canvassing the grand jury,"
the mayor said. "They wanted to indict me."

The situation was put tersely by an alderman close to the administration.
"You know what happened last week,
don't you?" he said. "The Deneen crowd and the church people tampered with the grand jury. They were going to indict me. I had to do it. The big boss got word of it on the jump. The Sunday closing order was the sequel. O, they can't put that fellow in a hole."

Explains Hoynes' Position.
But where did State Attorney Hoynes
come in? the mayor himself was asked.
"Well, he's an officer of the law, sworn to uphold the statutes."

"But how could they get the grand jury to vote an indictment when the authorities people have been unable to obtain evidence of saloonkeepers who violated the Sunday closing law?" suggested the reporter.

"Why?" the mayor asked. "What is the reason?"
"It has been charged that the liquor interests were able to prevent it."
"Then suppose the liquor interests
should 'lay off'?" continued Mr.
Thompson.

"But why should they 'lay off' in the case of the grand jury?" was asked.

Assails Liquor Interests.
"Look here," the mayor answered,
with emphasis. "The liquor interests have done all the dirty, nasty things they could. During the campaign they tried to get me in bad by circulating lies as how I voted to repeal the midnight closing ordinance and how I voted to increase 'wet' territory in Chicago.
They didn't tell the whole truth.
They didn't say that at that time the saloon was open all night and the ordinance was a dead letter. They didn't say that I voted to add those few blocks to

LATEST NEWS OF SUNDAY SALOONS

Mayor Thompson, signing orders to close saloons, intimated Deneen-Wet opposition and "reformers" planned to indict him and thereby took no step to head off plot. Also said he would have closed ten saloons, because the law was on his side.

Following example of Frank G.
Loriden, various candidates for governor sought to get on state wide Sunday closing campaign.

State's Attorney Hoynes announced mayor and police chief can't "pass the buck" to him in enforce-ing saloon orders.

Attorney Levy Mayer of wet
council goes to New York for conference with attorney and summar of late Saturday night injunction is heard. Also reported saloons to be advised to how to order.

Serg. Nelligan
Pilots a Notable
Within the Gates

Escorts Minnesota Senator-to-Be Through Station; Then Finds—

Desk Serg. Jerry Nelligan of the Department street station spent one happy hour last night. Jerry possesses more than a passing fancy in his star and chevron, and nothing delights him more than to exhibit to the "stranger within his gates" the wonderful efficiency of Chicago's police department.

He escorted one of the middle aged, retired men who stepped up to his desk to classify him in a category far above that of the average complainant.
"I'm William Schaefer," said the visitor, stroking his mustache. "You don't know me. I'm from Minnesota. I may say," he added, smiling as he clasped Jerry's hand in a convincing grip. "I am the future senator from Minnesota."

Vastly Superior Here, Vastly.
"Now I'm making an issue of police protection in my campaign and I've come to Chicago to investigate conditions in your police station, which I have been informed are far superior to those of our own. I was referred to you—Mr. O. J.
yes, Serg. Nelligan—as the man most thoroughly acquainted with these things."

"Sure thing, Senator," Mr.
Schaefer replied, beaming. "I'll be delighted to show you through."

Accompanied by half a dozen detectives, Jerry led the way through the various offices and the squadroom. He showed the visitor the operators' room
and how police and fire calls were received.

"I don't believe Bill Thompson has the right to order the saloons closed on Sunday," Schaefer confided by way of a pleasure. "That's another thing I want to take up and the next time I see Bill I shall certainly tell him a few things."

See "Prize Prisoners."
The detectives led the way to the cell
room where they pointed out the "prize prisoners" and told the record of each.
Then the scrupulous visitor drew Jerry
aside and whispered:

"I want to get the experience of spending a night in a cell. Do you think you could arrange it? Put me in with some bun."

Jerry stroked his chin.
"Besides," added the "senator to be,"
"I have no money and no place to sleep anyway."
"Oh, Doc!" yelled Jerry.
Dr. John O'Brien, ambulance physician, came and looked the visitor over.
"Nuts," was his diagnosis.

RUSSIA BREAKS WITH BULGARS; CRISIS AT HEAD

King of Greece Now Holds Balance of Power in Balkan States.

MAY NOT JOIN ALLIES.

BULLETIN.

SOFIA, via Paris, Oct. 7, 3 a. m.—
The Russian, French, British, Serbian, and Italian governments have asked for their passports.

LONDON, Oct. 7, 1 a. m.—A dispatch to Reuters' Telegram company from Sofia, sent by way of Petrograd, says:
"Bulgaria's reply to the Russian ultimatum
is unsatisfactory."
"The Russian minister has notified
Premier Radoslavoff of a rupture of diplomatic relations between the two countries."

"Russian interests in Bulgaria have been confiscated to the Dutch charge d'affaires."
"Bulgaria's reply was delivered at 2:40 o'clock on the afternoon of Oct. 6 (Tuesday)."

Greek King Holds Key.
Even the greatest battle of the war
may prove to have had less weight in deciding the future of Europe than the events of the last few days in the southeastern kingdom.

King Constantine of Greece, brother-in-law of the German emperor, appears to hold the balance of power of the near east
in his hand for the hour.

In the second crisis, where Greece seemed on the brink of entering the war on the side of the entente powers, he has virtually disarmed the foremost Greek statesman, Eleutherios Venizelos, from the premiership and has assumed personal control of the government.

Demanding Macedonia from Serbia.
King Ferdinand of Bulgaria has sent an ultimatum to Serbia, allowing a time limit of twenty-four hours for the question of Macedonia to Bulgaria.

The program of the German empire apparently includes the consolidation of their field operations with their Turkish allies by sweeping clear a channel from Berlin and Vienna to Constantinople.

For the accomplishment of this program they already have secured the cooperation of Bulgaria. They need the neutrality of Greece and Roumania and then must crush Serbia.

Yesterday's developments tend to confirm the statements of the German press
that the German emperor has guaranteed to Bulgaria both Greek and Roumanian neutrality.

Balkan the Crucial Field.
Thus the crucial field of warfare has shifted from the French and Russian fronts to the Balkan peninsula, where German success would mean the realization of Emperor William's ambitions for expansion toward India and Asia.

The people of the entente nations fully appreciate the momentousness of the crisis. The British newspapers impress upon the public that at the German emperor has secured the friendly neutrality of the king of Greece, enormous military efforts will be needed to check the combined German and American advance toward a junction with the Turks and Bulgars.

The French and British expedition may have completed the landing at Saloniki but if Greek support against Bulgaria cannot be counted upon, heavy reinforcements will be needed.

LATEST NEWS OF EUROPEAN WAR

ATHENS, Oct. 6, via Paris.
Oct. 7, 3:40 a. m.—British troops
begin to land yesterday at Saloniki. French troops are dis-embarking a mile and a half from the town and are being concentrated in a camp located on ground conceded to Serbia after 1913, upon which to build war-houses. From this point they are entrained as quickly as possible for Givogoli on the Serbian frontier.

PARIS, Oct. 6.—A Havas dispatch from Zurich says reports received there indicate that considerable forces of German and Austrian troops have been withdrawn from the Russian Galician frontier and sent to southern Hungary across Transylvania to take part in the offensive against Serbia.

PARIS, Oct. 7, 3:45 a. m.—
The capture of Tahiru apparently has silenced the critical and captious section of the public which was beginning to declare the advantages won in the battle of the 25th of September were not being followed up fast enough. The latest news seems to satisfy all and elates most military commentators. The storming of the famous hill 199
gives a great strategical advantage. This hillock was fortified in every imaginable way and bristled with cannon whose "barrier" are blocked the way to any permanent advance of the French.

AMERICAN MUNITION PLANT BLOWN UP; FOUR KILLED.

Mina Explosive Company Factory
at Emporium, Pa., Was Manufacturing for the Allies.

Emporium, Pa., Oct. 6.—(Special.)—The explosion of nearly 5,000 pounds of gun-cotton tonight killed at least four men and injured a dozen in the Mina Explosive company's plant. The death list may be greater. The blowing was in the gun-cotton drying department.

The Mina plant is a product of the war.
It is manufacturing for the British and French governments.

Heavy patrols have been maintained
around the plant since the war order came. Threats to blow it up are said to have been made, although company officials refuse to talk on this.

Teachers' Union Wins Two to One in Pension Vote

The Teachers' federation, which the board of education is trying to dissolve, won out along the line in the primary election of candidates for members of the board of trustees of the teachers' pension and retirement fund. The result, considered at 1:30 o'clock this morning, shows
the four leading candidates of each faction received the following votes:

DESERTED MOTHER DYING TO SAVE BABY; WHERE?

Girl Who Lived on Two Stolen Apples Three Days Takes Police to Give Child Home.

Saturday afternoon an Italian fruit
peddler left his push cart for a few minutes at Wrightwood and Best avenues.
As he turned his back a young woman carrying a 7 months old baby, stole up to the cart and took two apples. She concealed them under her shawl and hurried away.

She ate the second apple Monday morning. That night she went into a restaurant at Lincoln and Fullerton avenues and offered to wash dishes for a meal.
The counter man played with the baby
while the mother washed dishes.

PEN PICTURE OF THE FUTURE MRS. WILSON

Possesses all the social gifts that will make her an attractive and graceful figure as the first lady of the land, and is partial to the quieter pleasures.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 6.—(Special.)—Mrs. Norman Galt, who is to wed President Wilson, was Miss Edith Bolling. She was born in Wytheville, Va., where her girlhood was spent, and where her father, William H. Bolling, won distinction as one of the ablest lawyers in the state.

Mrs. Galt lives at 2308 Twentieth street, Northwest, in the fashionable section of Washington. She has lived here since her marriage in 1896 to Norman Galt. Her first husband was the son of William M. Galt, head of the firm of William M. Galt & Co., which is to Washington what Tiffany's is to New York.

Mr. Galt died about eight years ago. After his death his widow purchased the interest in the jewelry firm of Sterling Galt, her brother-in-law, and since that time the house has been managed by her two brothers.

Norman Galt was a vestryman of St. Thomas' Episcopal church, of which Mrs. Galt is a member.

Mrs. Galt has enjoyed an enviable distinction in the social circles of the capital not only because of her unusual beauty and natural charm but also because of her unusual and interesting character. She is a woman of mental gifts.

She has traveled much, has lived for a while in Paris, and has all the self-possession and capacity for thought which would naturally result from her experiences.

Mrs. Galt is an accomplished musician and a pianist of marked ability.
She is moderately fond of bridge, but finds more pleasure in out of door diversions, adding to her love of motoring a fondness for golf, at which she can give a good account of herself.

She is plump, about 5 feet 4 inches in height, and weighs 140 pounds.
She is a typical brunette, with masses of black hair and large hazel eyes.
Although her husband died in 1908, she has never until the last year appeared in anything save black, gray, and dull blue. This summer for the first time she has worn white.

While possessing all of the social gifts that will make her an attractive and graceful figure as the first lady of the land, she is regarded as partial to the quieter pleasures. Her activities in club circles have not been extensive because of more serious interests.

thought, has seemed to seek the extreme, retrogressive always begins before the ultra-liberalism accomplished. Progressivism in the public mind is a term which may refer to government agencies that will put the man in the machine, the interest of the whole people above the interests of the privileged few, and make the officials responsive to the wishes of the poor, not of the politicians.

Progressivism was born in the middle west and there to stay. For any political party to run away from the fundamentals of progressivism is to alienate the middle west—its republicanism here whose memory runs back a brief four years will deliver its staggering section of America in the 1910's.

INDIANA EXCITED BUT POET IS SHY OVER RILEY DAY

An Hoosierdom to Join In To-day's Tribute to Literary Genius; Many Telegrams.

BY FANNIE BUTCHER.
Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 6.—(Special.)—Indianapolis today is like a child waiting for the night before Christmas for the visit of the patron saint. "Riley day" is on everybody's lips. Preparations for tomorrow's honoring of "Indiana's most beloved citizen" are going on everywhere.

In the elevator dark-eyed Russian dancers bump into one and murmur a hearty pardon, so eager are they in their discussions of tomorrow's huge music Riley festival. Children on the street have that abstracted look on their faces that says plainly: "Tomorrow I gotta speak a piece."

A group of men in the lobby of the Clapp hotel are talking with much hand waving about not finding a place for the 300 and 350 extra men who want to attend the big Riley banquet tomorrow night. "There's only room for 250 and we've already got 225 on the list," one hears in excited tones. There's even a wonderful expectancy in the crisp autumn sunshine.

Whole State Awaits.
Unless one is right here feeling this something that fills the air it sounds sentimental to say that a whole town, a state, in fact, is waiting breathlessly to express its love for one man.

But if you were here, and such a lovable old soul! There he was sitting in the corner of the back seat of a big machine with a tiny white poodle snuggled under the stamper rug which was over his lap. "Isn't it fun to have one whole day for your very own?" I asked him.

"Yes," he answered, and the smile on his face was the sort of shy smile that comes over a little boy's face when he says "Yes." "Good. After that."

He is too real a person to say more. Poet Still Has Stage Fright.
There have been celebrations in his honor for so many years that one would think he'd be rather blasé about having a state holiday proclaimed in his honor on his birthday, but he isn't. He's just as excited about it as if it were the first time he had seen his name in print.

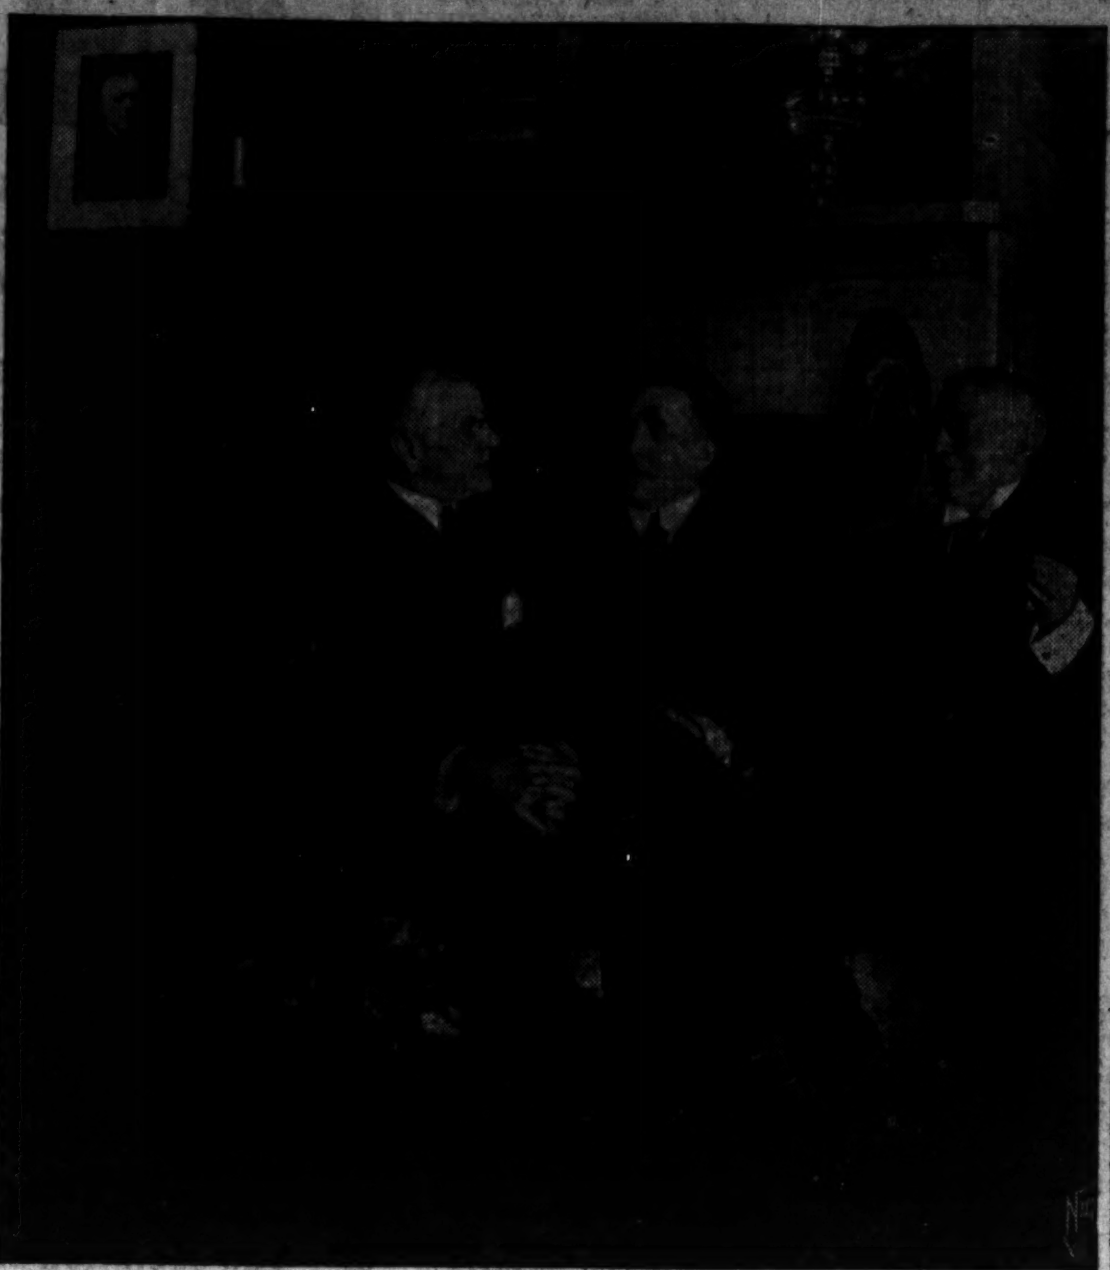

"Yes, I do dread making that speech tomorrow night. I always have stage fright. When I was a little boy when I'd stand up to recite my piece my chin would shake," and he screwed up the corner of his mouth in his characteristic fashion. "My hands and feet would feel too big to manage and before I knew it I'd run away."

He chuckled in remembrance of those days.
"And it's just as bad now," he added.

Smile Tells You Much.
His smile tells you much. He is a little boy who tells you lots of things that he is too timid to say—that in his heart he is still the boy who sat on the bank of a stream with his pole stuck beside him in the ground and watched the fish swim about and wondered what they were thinking; that the crispness of the autumn air is a real thing to him, something to be talked about with the true poet's earnestness; that life is happy and full of zest for him despite his feebleness, and that there's a laugh in his heart.

Store of Mail and Telegrams.
Like the little boy who can't wait until Christmas morning to open his presents, Mr. Riley couldn't wait to open the piles and piles of letters that were bundled up on a table in his little office on the top floor of the Bobbs-Merrill building—letters from every state in the union, letters about with the true poet's earnestness; "James Whitcomb Riley, United States"; post cards from every member of a class in a little school, and all of them brimming over with the love for their poet; telegrams from old friends; felicitations from Brand Whitlock and Henry Van Dyke, from Belgium.

The above picture, reproduced by THE TRIBUNE through the courtesy of Mrs. Dietz Fletcher, 4256 West Monroe street, is probably the latest taken of James Whitcomb Riley, the Hoosier poet, whose birthday the country will honor today. The portraits from right to left are Mr. Riley, Meredith Nicholson, the author, and C. L. Dietz. The picture was taken a few weeks ago while Mr. Riley was on a visit to his old friend, Mr. Dietz.

MIND HOSPITAL RULED BY 'PULL'?

Holding of Incurable in the Psychopathic Institution Under Fire.

Has politics played a part in undermining the efficiency of the psychopathic hospital?

Is the congested condition due to improper influence in behalf of favored patients?

Are patients kept there who should be sent to asylums, and others sent to state institutions who should be treated there? These and kindred questions have grown out of the investigation ordered by President Reinberg of the county board as a result of THE TRIBUNE's exposure of conditions in the psychopathic hospital.

Incurables Congest Hospital.
Doctors tell me that only from 2 to 4 per cent of the insanity cases which pass through the psychopathic hospital are curable," President Reinberg said. "If this is true, I believe we could handle that number nicely. It is the incurables who are kept at the hospital an unreasonable length of time who are congesting the institution."

President Reinberg said he had been advised that relatives of incurably insane patients "like to keep them there" because, being conveniently located, they can run out there any day.

Inquiry Board Meets Tomorrow.
The three physicians named by President Reinberg to conduct an inquiry at the hospital are to confer tomorrow. They are Dr. A. B. T. Haym, an expert in psychiatry, Dr. Sidney Kuh, specialist in nervous disorders, and Dr. George W. Hall of the Cook county hospital staff.

"It will take time to make a thorough investigation," Dr. Heym said. "Our report to President Reinberg will embody recommendations for the complete reorganization of the hospital."

BARS "ALIMONY" FUTURE.

Court Rules Against Lump Sum Granted on "Expectations" of Prospective Beneficiary.

While upholding a decree of divorce obtained by Mrs. Mary C. Martin against James Henry Martin, the Appellate court yesterday reversed the decree in so far as it refers to alimony. Mrs. Martin was given $15,000 lump sum alimony. "Expectations" comprised the chief assets of the defendant, who expected to inherit $100,000. The higher court holds that the court below erred in awarding $15,000 to the wife on the evidence.

JOHN D. JR. RUNS RACE FOR LIFE IN MINE BLAST

Magnate Goes In Danger Zone Unknown to Men; Dashes to Safety in Time.

Summit, Wyo., Oct. 6.—(Special.)—John D. Rockefeller Jr. now knows how it feels to run a foot race with death. The millionaire, who is here inspecting the iron mine belonging to his Colorado Fuel and Iron company, slipped this morning in a going directly into the heart of the open face workings where a whole mountain is being blasted away.

He did not wait for the superintendent to accompany him. The dynamite men, not knowing visitors were approaching, lit the fuses of nearly fifty heavy blasts. The New Yorker was almost in the air when the mine, hiding in their bomb roof shelters hundreds of yards away, saw him and shouted frantically for him to run.

Rides with Dynamite Train.
Mr. Rockefeller arrived here at 7 o'clock this morning. When the millionaire awoke he found that his special Pullman had been brought up here from Hartsville Junction, fifteen miles down the valley, attached to two box cars loaded with dynamite.

"This is a bit more dangerous than going about in Colorado coal mines," he said. "I'd better stick with some one who knows the signals for the blasting."

After thoroughly inspecting the property Mr. Rockefeller left for Denver this evening.

$20,000 MADE IN 10 MINUTES BY A BOARD OF TRADE FIRM.

December Spurts to $1.00 in Wild Closing of the Wheat Pit—Big Dealers Hit Hard.

Twenty thousand dollars profit in ten minutes! That was the record made by brokers for the Ware & Leland commission house in yesterday's closing hours of what grain traders described as "the biggest day we have had on the board of trade for years."

Ware & Leland brokers bought a million bushels of wheat and sold on an uptick of more than 2 cents a bushel, trading in 2,000,000 bushels in less than ten minutes. Prices of wheat for December-died May delivery were given an upward boost of 6 1/2 and 7 1/2 cents a bushel during the day. Many leading houses in the grain trade have been selling wheat on future contracts for several weeks in the belief that values were due for a decline. These firms were heavy losers by the advance. Yesterday's uptick sent wheat for December delivery to $1.00 a bushel and forced the May option to $1.07 1/2 a bushel.

GREED OF BANKS STIRS ANARCHY, WILLIAMS SAYS

Controller Defends His Efforts
to Enforce Lower Interest
During War Stress.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 6.—John Skatton Williams, controller of the currency, defended today before the Kentucky Bankers' association his efforts to force national banks to reduce their interest charges to borrowers during the days of stress in the financial and business world which followed the outbreak of the European war.

Of the 1,415 national banks in the country, Mr. Williams declared, 1,020 have sent in detailed reports showing that they have received an average of 10 per cent or more on loans. He cited, without giving names, instances in which the rate ran up to 40, 50, 60, 70, 80, 90, 100, 110, 120, 130, 140, 150, 160, 170, 180, 190, 200, 210, 220, 230, 240, 250, 260, 270, 280, 290, 300, SOCIETY and Entertainments

Cordon Opening to Be Held Oct. 28

ACCORDING to present plans the members of the "Cordon" will formally open their rooms at the seventh floor of the Fine Arts building on Oct. 28. The rooms which are now in the process of reconstruction and decoration, will be in modern Italian renaissance style, the chief features being a fireplace with a handsome mantel, the gift of Miss Kathleen Robinson, the sculptress, and a fountain done by Miss Nellie Walker.

The opening is to be for the members only, but interesting to visitors. It is to be a feature, and one of these occasions will be a tea given to the Midland Authors' society.

Among the members of the Cordon club are included nearly every woman in the city who is prominent in professional or artistic life.

Mrs. John Chas. and her youngest daughter, of 1001 Prairie avenue, who have been in the east since July, arrived home last Sunday. Miss Marie Chas., the eldest daughter, remained in the east to attend school at Dobbs Ferry.

The marriage of Miss Marion Mason Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Green of 614 Kimbark avenue, to John S. Lord took place in the presence of 200 guests last evening at the home of her parents. Bishop Herman Page, formerly rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church of this city, now bishop of Spokane, Wash., read the ceremony.

Oct. 9 is the date set for the wedding of Miss Gertrude Furst, daughter of Mrs. George C. Furst of 108 South Racine avenue, to Herbert J. Bauman, son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Bauman of Syracuse, N. Y.

Mrs. Curtis E. McBride of Mansfield, O., is in Chicago for the week, staying at the Plaza hotel in North Clark street. Mrs. McBride, who formerly was Mrs. G. P. English, was in other years a resident of the north side in Chicago.

Mrs. George W. Blossom of Hubbard Woods announces the engagement of her sister, Miss Stella J. Blossom, daughter of B. S. Blossom of Evanston, to Albert Blauvelt of Chicago.

Miss Margaret McDonald, daughter of Mrs. Malcolm McDonald of 345 Foster avenue, was married to John B. Buckley son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Buckley of 2549 Washington boulevard, yesterday morning at St. Rita's church.

This was at the last week-end house party at Ceylon court, Lake Geneva, when Mr. and Mrs. John J. Mitchell were entertaining some distinguished guests.

It seems that Mr. Dickinson likes to play charades and has quite a genius for it. In fact, Mrs. Borden, Mrs. Fairbank, and some others who were there say that Mr. Dickinson's charades were more screaming than vaudeville and so clever that nobody could guess them.

The bit of the evening was when the former secretary of war, who is a courtly southerner, very tall and exceedingly dignified, began to crawl about the little stage on all fours, going "woof, woof, woof, woof."

All the really clever people said that he was a dog, but not so.

It seems that engine go "woof, woof, too," and Mr. Dickinson, having been counsel for the Illinois Central, was a perfectly correct engine.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell are coming in town Nov. 17 for a short season.

Early this week, Mrs. Charles Adams, arrived in Chicago after an absence of two years. Dr. and Mrs. Adams are taking over their own apartment, which covers the entire top floor of 33 Bellevue place. They expect to be quite settled after one year in Hawaii and nine months in South America.

The opera was very gallantly attended yesterday afternoon. It was a Russian-Japanese artistic enterprise that brought men and women in from Suburbia to hear Mrs. Mura and to see Pavlova—doctors from Lake Forest, scores from Evanston and Winnetka.

Was the second act of "Butterfly" ever more wonderfully staged, or even in Petrograd was the swordplay ballet under flying fireworks more exquisitely danced?

Will Hold Tag Day on Oct. 18.

"Tag day" will be held Oct. 18. The time was set at a meeting of the Chicago Children's Benefit league at the Auditorium hotel on Tuesday. There are expected to be from 4,000 to 5,000 taggers. A chapter will accompany every ten taggers. Last year the day brought forth $47,000 for about fifty charitable organizations.

Three Bands—Count 'Em.

Sumnerdale, Edgewater, Rogers Park, and Ravenswood will take part in the annual "Community event" of the Summer-Edge Business association tonight, tomorrow, and Saturday. There will be a parade this evening accompanied by three bands.

They Didn't Hear 'Woof-Woof' Story.

BY CINDERELLA.

I would have been alone, one feels sure, to be a disembodied spirit hovering over the dinner table of the Waybears Tuesday evening. They met at the Midway club, and it was the first dinner of this society of raconteurs for the season.

Jacob M. Dickinson presided and talked of twenty-nine years were only nineteen members there. Mr. Dickinson had warned each member to come prepared with a story, and there were many who were there to tell.

As it was it is certain that Mr. Dickinson never stopped to tell of one of the most recent of his summer experiences.

This was at the last week-end house party at Ceylon court, Lake Geneva, when Mr. and Mrs. John J. Mitchell were entertaining some distinguished guests.

Real Love Stories

June Was Tacitful.

AFTER John's wife's death had made his home empty for two years he met me, the little school teacher, who had been a member of the school board. I was 25 and he was 30. A real love match, the neighbors said, and so he took me to his home. The incident which I am now to relate occurred after we had been married five years, and in which time his big heartedness and sincerity never failed. His satisfaction of having me in his home made me say again and again to myself, "I'll never marry any act or word of mine."

Yet there was one thing I secretly always wanted, and that a tender subject, too—John's first housekeeping furniture. His splendid grocery business was built by his early practice of economy, an art which he carried in many lines, even to supplying our house with other people's used furniture.

One day at dinner he said: "June, there's going to be a sale of household goods around the corner from our store this afternoon. I'm going around and look it over. Is there anything you want me to bid on?"

I created my hands on the linen in front of me and made my venture by saying: "John, I have enough second hand furniture, and there is really no piece I care anything at all about except the one and that I would not part with for anything."

In his surprise he made a sweeping glance through the room, as though to see the thing of his importance, and quickly exclaimed: "What is that?"

He kept my gaze steadily and replied: "It's you, John." A wave of confusion passed over his face, and when he came to himself, he was saying: "What feelings of love, joy, and understanding. And now dear reader, he did not run around to my side of the table and press me so closely that there was no space for thought, space I say (a thought which certainly would have been a disaster to consider), but just extended his big hands across the table for both of mine, and amid laughter and blushes at seeing my point well taken, said: "June, you pulled out the ace card this time, and with it all the money. What hindered you from making a bonfire?"

Office Secretary's Residence.

"Mrs. H. O. S." asks for the Chicago office of the King's Daughter and Sons. The office is where the county secretary resides. At present Mr. C. E. Stewart, 3750 North Clark street, Chicago, is chief county officer. If you will give my address to Mr. H. O. S. or send him, I will be glad to give him information desired.

"I am sending a recipe for perfection salad, as asked for in the last issue of the Tribune. It was published in London, England. I was just recovering from an operation when I read the request. This is my first chance to reply, after making a search in a storage trunk for that song, to make sure that I had it."

Green Tomato Pickle.

None of the season's operations send out more delicious orders on the autumn air than the stewing of green tomatoes with vinegar and spices. The home made pickle of green tomatoes may be one of the most delicious of a vegetable in vinegar known, yet as for me my face is set against it.

The spicy appetizer originated in a country where it was too hot to exercise much, but heat is an excruciating itself. It keeps the blood stirred up. However, the mortality rate in such countries has always been high, while our own present day society is in league to lower mortality rates because so many of our 500,000 or more deaths a year represent unnecessary waste.

The worst evil of pickles is not that they are of themselves indigestible and increase the acid content of an already too acid digestive box, but they render such things as baked beans with which they are so often combined, a real stomachic which they are served on the side, and anything like noodles or spaghetti, but half digestible. And this is a sermon text. If you will have tomato pickles—and some people are writing for recipes, here is how to prepare the tomatoes:

How to Prepare Them.

Wash most thoroughly and slice in about one-third or half inch slices, and the onions used with them, a few, should be cut in the same way. Sprinkle lightly with salt and let stand for from twelve to twenty-four hours.

This is the old fashioned way and there may be a better and more modern one. In the old time, they were put in a colander with a heavy weight over them, but there was a remnant of superstition in this. The vinegar should be cooked first with the powdered spices in a bag, and then removed, but the cloves left free.

Nearly all the old recipes gave for a quantity "some," and we say the less the better. Let heat and a sterile container aid in the preservation instead of quart of vinegar. Cook the tomatoes in the vinegar mildly and only till tender. Keep all the tomatoes covered with cooking by using a heavy plate over them.

"Charles was not used to the city; he had lived in a suburb all of his life. When he started to school in Chicago his mother thought it necessary to go to school with him and to call for him after school was dismissed. At the end of the first half day she went to take him home from school and he had already left. She immediately hurried home and searched the neighborhood for him. Later he strolled home, and when asked where he had been he replied, 'O, I came home along the car line. I can't come home the same way every day.'"

Smile with Your Eyes.

says Antoinette Donnelly

HAVE always felt that this "picture taking" business into which most of us are inveigled once in a while was a matter that should be regarded with a great deal of skepticism, and so I have laid down for myself some rules which are based upon the results of the past years.

To me, one of the most impossible of the many impossibilities committed in the name of photography is the forced smile, ranging as it does, all the way from an expansive tooth to a quivering eye. It is the worst of all. Whether or not you will be posing before that big box some of these days, and when you do, no matter what the photo man says, "you smile with your eyes." Perhaps it would not be a bad idea to practice this a bit beforehand. Of course this rule refers only to those folk who are having their pictures taken for Christmas presents or for good friends who wish to see them as they really are, not as attempted professionals.

You won't mind another suggestion, will you? It's about the "crowning glory" feature of woman's beauty. There are some misguided women who, wishing to make the impression of their lives, make one of their annual trips to the hairdresser's, who, unfamiliar with the best ways of bringing out her patron's "glory," advises the latest in coiffures. The result is your best friend scarcely recognizes you. Little wonder that every one says, "Why, Matilda, that doesn't do you justice." And you blame the photographer!

So, I say, dress your hair as you are accustomed to wearing it and leave out any little extravagances that you may have put on once in a while. For you all know how woefully and as an out of date picture, and what goes out of style quicker than extreme hair dresses and hats! Speaking of hats, why do we women wear them at such a time? Obviously, to have a picture taken of an investment out of which we hope to get our money's worth. As I said, don't blame the photographer. It is he who tells you not to wear a hat?

After all, the picture that lasts longest on the wall without drawing undue attention to it is the head, neck, and shoulder one, for a full length view even in the simplest gown will, in time, become a caricature.

Try to make your picture appointment for the morning when you are thoroughly rested. Don't mind "touching up a bit" if your color is nil, for you surely know that one reason why most actresses' pictures are so good is because of the "makeup."

Antoinette Donnelly's Answers.

GEORGETTE: No, Georgene, almond meal will not cause a growth of hair on the face. This is a good bleach for the neck and face: Lactic acid, one fluid ounce; glycerin, two fluid ounces; tincture of benzoin, two fluid ounces, and water enough to make sixteen fluid ounces. If the skin shows slight irritation discontinue for a day or two and use cold cream.

WHEAT BULGES; SHORTS COVER

Uplift of 6 1/4 to 7 1/2 Cents
Causes Great Excitement;
Wall Street a Factor.

An open interest in wheat was more noticeable yesterday than it has been for many weeks. The sharp advance which resulted in a higher closing level of 6 1/4 to 7 1/2 not only stamped the last of the shorts into a large covering movement, but many of the bulls took handsome profits. The decided lessening of receipts in the northwest, where rains were prevalent, and arrivals of less than half those of a week ago, was partly responsible for the demoralization of the short interest. The northwest markets fully reflected the conditions and were the first to show sharp advances.

There was a decided influx of outside orders which was accounted for to some considerable extent by the fact that wheat has worked its way above the dollar mark and that primary arrivals have fallen off surprisingly. The southwest, however, declined sharply both from a week and a year ago, but this tendency was not as marked as at spring wheat time.

Wall Street men take hand. Wall street speculators showed their full appreciation of the general optimism prevailing in the grain market. Wheat, wheat, wheat. This demand materialized in putting the strain on the shorts. Ordinary statistics and influences were lost sight of in the great excitement that prevailed. The Chicago market was limited to everybody was more interested in market action than in figures or theories. The stock taking on the wheat caused a marked reaction from top prices.

Export clearances were 1,600,000 bu. including 180,000 bu. from Canada. Primary arrivals were 2,070,000 bu., as compared with 3,145,000 bu. at the preceding week, and 2,290,000 bu. a year ago. The Argentine exportable surplus was estimated at 12,000,000 bu. The acreage by one authority was estimated at 10 to 12 percent increase over last year. Cash sales were $8,000,000. Receipts were 61 cars, with 65 cars estimated for the day.

Corn shorts rounded up. In corn as in wheat there was a general rounding up of the most stubborn of the shorts. Prices advanced in an important way, but reacted in a large measure when the demand of this character and from new investors had been satisfied, but the closing level was 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 cents higher. Reports of damage done by the frosts of Montana might cause in freely. The damage appears to have been fairly serious in parts of Iowa with some inflicted Tuesday night in portions of Illinois. Most of the damage appeared to have been in the way of grain which was still in the field. The government report, due at the close of the market today will give the condition of corn on Oct. 1 only.

Cash corn prices were steady to 1/2 cent higher. The shipping market was quiet with western buyers refusing to take quantities of a bulge which they counted largely speculative and in sympathy with wheat. The country offerings were small, a motorist interest in the market was at current levels. Cash sales were 100,000 bu. and 100,000 bu. were sold here to date. Primary receipts were 1,140,000 bu., against 1,210,000 bu. a year ago. Receipts were 277 cars with 201 cars estimated for today.

Oats Longs Take Profit. Oats participated in the advance noted in other grains and also in their later reaction. Final prices, however, were 1/2 to 1/4 cent higher. There was a decided covering movement by lightened shorts, and a similar taking of the tempting profits by the longs. Cash sales were 1/2 to 1/4 cent higher. Primary receipts were 1,140,000 bu., against 1,210,000 bu. a year ago. Receipts were 277 cars with 201 cars estimated for today.

Provisions Continue Active. Provisions scored handsome advances with grain commission houses the best buyers and packers' brokers the best sellers. The final range was 7 1/2 to 8 1/2 cents higher. Packers sold largely for export, a heavy product, mostly lamb. Current supplies of meat and lard are enormous, including a vast quantity to the Belgian Relief Association. One or more of the largest packers have been in the market of lard and ribs, and there is also a good speculative demand for January product. Profit taking by packers caused some reaction from top prices. Prices of hogs at the yards were 10 to 12 cents higher. Receipts were 64,300, against 53,100 a year ago, and 51,000 two years ago. Hogs estimated for today, 17,000.

Bye Prices Sharply Off. Bye was lower, with sales of No. 2 at 50c, No. 3, 40c, and No. 4, 30c. Receipts were 12 cars. Barley, ruled firm, malting selling at 50c/60c; feed, 45c/55c, and screenings, 35c/45c. Rye, ruled firm, October sold at 40c and cash lots at 35c/40c. March sold at 35c/40c. Cloverseed was steady with sales of cash lots at 17c/18c/19c. Duluth flat rye, 18c/19c/20c. Cash corn on track, 18c/19c/20c. November, 18c/19c/20c, and December, 17c/18c/19c. Receipts, 1 car. Minneapolis was 1/2 cent higher, with cash on track 18c/19c/20c. Receipts were 12 cars. Whinnipig closed 2 1/2 cents higher, October and November, 18c/19c/20c, and December, 17c/18c/19c. Receipts, none.

The Biltmore Stout

(By the House of Kuppenheimer)

THE world respects the substantial—and weight is an asset to the man who is well-enough dressed.

The making of right clothes for stout men should be classed among the Liberal Arts—and the House of Kuppenheimer given a Master's Degree.

There is none of the bagginess about Kuppenheimer clothes that you see about most "stouts" and "extra sizes."

Note this Biltmore Stout, for example. The front of the coat is carefully worked out and tailored.

The shoulders and collar especially designed for the short neck of the average stout man. The coat shaped to conceal, not to emphasize, the appearance of corpulence in front.

This is our fashionable three-button Biltmore Model—with all the correct style detail—cut and tailored for men of full figure and shown in all the new and wanted suitings.

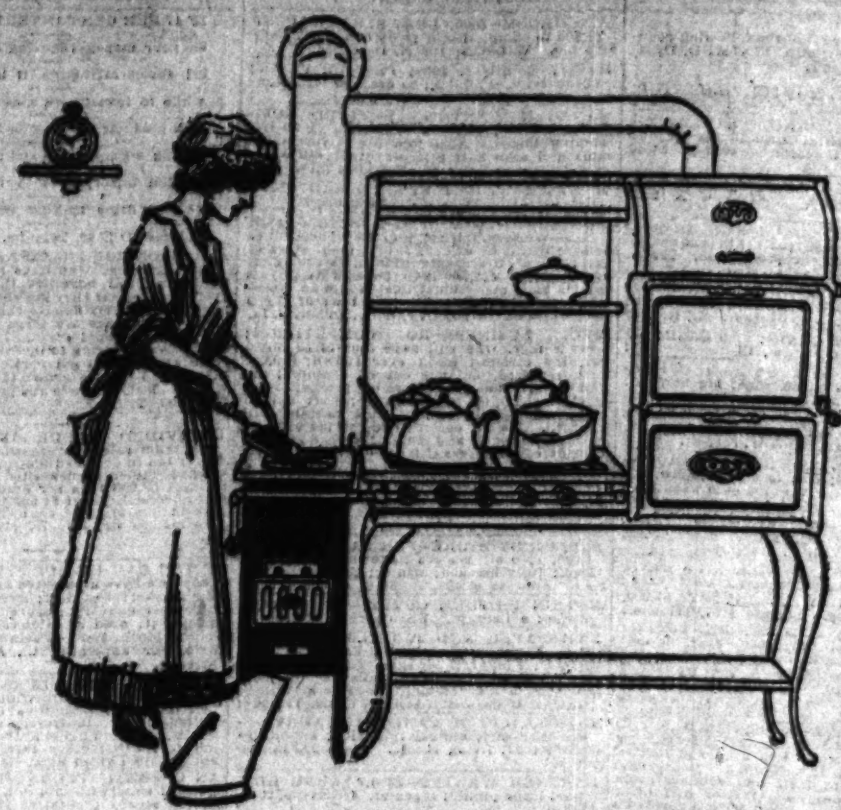

We specialize in clothes for stoutish young men—for the short, medium and long stout figures. Perfect fitting trousers and vests are much appreciated features of these suits.

Prices—$20 to $40

Kuppenheimer Clothes are sold by a representative store in nearly every Metropolitan center of the United States. Your name on a post card will bring you our Book of Fashions.

We sell hundreds of these little heaters at this season of the year and install them in the best built homes in Chicago.

Order yours at any of our branch stores or our big salesroom downtown.
